TINY TEN

The Quest for the Tiny Ten is one of the most under rated hunting experiences in the world. These tiny antelope live in unique habitats all over Southern Africa, and makes for a challenging, if not life en-riching Adventure.

Typical the Tiny Ten is collected over three Safaris, but the hunter with time on his hands can achieve this goal in one 18 day Safari. A lot of logistical planning goes into these hunts and every Tiny Ten hunt is quoted after careful personal consultation with each and every hunter.

Licensing: Most of these Species are protected and need special licenses to hunt them.

Method of hunt: Various methods of hunting is used but most of it is ambush or still hunting.

Method of take: Some of these species can be taken with a bow and arrow but any rifle with a strong bonded core bullet will get the job done without too much trouble.
