SOUTH AFRICAN BIRD HUNT AREAS:

All game birds in South Africa have a very specific game season. Pigeons and Doves do not have a season, but they are hunted when the sunflower fields are in full show in April and May.

Which type of hunt you want to do will determine where we take you. Infinity Lodge and Cyferfontein Lodge are located within easy driving distance of some of the biggest grain producing fields in Africa. This food rich environment makes for fantastic bird numbers.

Infinito Safaris have embarked on a formal management partnership with our landowners, to ensure sustainable utilization of the quota.

Bag numbers are limited by law but provides for enough feathered fun per gun per day.

A dedicated bird hunter can easily harvest 14 different game bird species in 7 hunting days. This feature makes South Africa a unique wing shooting destination, as there are not where else in the world where you can do this.

ACCOMMODATION:

Infinity Lodge and Cyferfontein Lodge are well known and renowned hunting lodges. All our South African Lodges are of a high standard and are "better half" friendly.

WEAPON:

Shotguns are easy to bring into South Africa and we assist with that. NO semi-automatic shotguns are allowed. Ammunition is purchased locally. The type of hunt will determine the type of gun you will bring on your African Wing-shooting Safari.

SEASON:

This depends largely on the type of birds you will hunt. The best hunting time is our winter from May to August.

METHOD OF HUNT:

Pointers – GSP, English & German Wire-haired pointers

Driven – Beaters

Static Line – Pigeons, Doves, and Waterfowl

WING-SHOOTING PH AND MANAGER:

BENRU OOSTHUIZEN

Growing up with a passionate wing-shooting father, the idea of being a bird guide always stood out to me. When I was given the opportunity to pursue this career a year ago with Infinito, I couldn't deny fate. Working a covey of Spurfowl over a good dog, freezing cold early mornings in a duck blind is what makes me the happiest man on earth!
